To meet, share and enjoy. And now: till next time.

Last week, with some amazement, I was looking at some pictures taken during our furlough. So many people we met, so much we could share about the work of the Lord in Cambodia.

And unaware.....we did so much, but we also enjoyed the days of rest and relaxation.!

The last week of our furlough has started, we look back in gratitude and with pleasure to all those joyful, impressing, intensive moments and encounters that lay behind us

It is cool and encouraging to hear from you and to see how the Lord is busy in all those lives. It is so good to see how also in the Netherlands people are consciously choosing to walk along with someone who walks alone, to share their life with that person and show Jesus love by this.

It is amazing to experience your involvement with our family and the work of Alongsiders in Cambodia. It makes us speechless and filled with gratitude.

Tuesday morning, 25 October 2016 we will fly back to Phnom Penh. There we will, D.V. of course, live and work again for a period of two years. All five of us look forward to go home again, which of course is a good sign.

And yet there is a nasty side too, to leave family and friends behind again. With loads of good and beautiful memories we have to let go of each other. That's part of it. But it does hurts again..

WILL YOU PRAY WITH US AGAIN?

1.To wrap up things here in the Netherlands well. To say good bye to family and friends, to the classmates from the "Regenboogschool". This is a bit hard for the children. They had such a super time in their own class!

2. For the voyage. To have pleasure, patience and safety during this long voyage and a good reunion with our friends and colleagues.
3. To get settled again. We are not going anymore to a fully unknown place. That's good, but we will have to adjust anyway. Pray that we will catch up with the language fluently.
4.To have a good start with the homeschooling after the fall break

We are glad to know that we will be supported again by your prayers and care.

Many blessings,

Mart-Jan & Talitha,
Joy, Micha and Amy
